Men's Easter Hats.

MEN are as particular about their headgear as women. A hat that will not keep its shape and color is considered dear at any price, and justly so. Furthermore, it must be stylish and comfortable, else they will not have it.

With these facts in mind we made our selections accordingly. Every hat in our stock is the product of a well-known manufacturer, including Stetson. All of them were made to our order, and the most critical cannot fail to be fully satisfied with their style, quality, and finish.

The soft hats are shown in new shades of green, tan, and steel, and are decidedly stylish, appealing strongly to young men of fastidious taste. The stiff hats are in black and several shades of tan and green, and in a variety of blocks, hence it is an easy matter to get a becoming shape.

Special attention is called to our three leaders in soft and stiff hats:

The "St. Regis"—$2.00

The "Colonial"—$3.00

The "Woodthrop"—$3.50

These are the products of the best hatmakers in America, and absolutely the best values possible to obtain at the respective prices.

We are also showing an importation from G. B. Barsalino, F. Lazzaro & Co., of fine Italian Feather-weight Hats, in soft and stiff styles—$3.50 and $5.00 each.

Also the latest blocks in Silk Hats and Opera Hats.

Main floor—F st.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Mrs. Taft Arranges Concerts for the Speedway.

NO MORE AT THE WHITE HOUSE

President's Wife, with Son Charles, Occupies Box at Theater and Hears Lecture on Russia—Japanese Ambassador and Baroness Takahira Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dryden.

Mrs. Taft, wife of the President, who is gradually establishing a new order which will mark her social regime distinctively, has arranged semi-weekly promenade concerts for the Speedway, to begin April 14. The Marine Band will play.

The concerts will be given on Wednesday and Saturday of every week, and President and Mrs. Taft will attend the first one, Mrs. Taft driving out for the succeeding ones whenever she can. She hopes to establish these as the smartest and most popular affairs possible. Prominent diplomats and officials and smart residents of the Capital have received the announcement with enthusiasm, and this will be the meeting place for the wealth, fashion, and brains of the city. They will all be out in autos, carriages, on horseback, or on foot, and it is believed that at last a veritable "Rotten Row" will be established here.

A pavilion is now being erected in the Ellipse south of the Monument grounds, and on the river front, in a pretty location, for the use of the band. This will, of course, eliminate the time-honored Saturday afternoon band concerts in the White House grounds, and the Wednesday afternoon concerts in front of the Capitol, which have been given through many administrations, and which when first established attracted the wealth and fashion of the District. Of late years, however, they have fallen into disfavor with the smart set.

During the regime of Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Hayes, that of Mrs. McElroy, during President Arthur's administration, of Mrs. Cleveland, and even as late as Mrs. Harrison's, the Saturday afternoon concerts were brilliant social and official gatherings. The first lady of the land, of those days, entertained a distinguished party on the south portico, who sat there throughout the concert, except for the time when they promenade in the grounds. An informal tea was partaken of later, in the White House, and the invitations to these little parties were always much coveted. An admiring crowd of spectators was always about, just below, as close as possible to the portico, upon which the President usually appeared for at least a short time, and greetings were frequently exchanged between the porch party and those in the grounds, an invitation sometimes being extended from the first lady to a friend below by a nod and wave of the hand, when the favorite one lost no time in getting up the steps.

That Washington is at last to have what London has in Hyde Park, Havana in the Malecon, Florence in her Court of Honor, and Manila in the Luneta, is attested by Mrs. Taft, who has had the idea in mind for some time.

Mrs. Taft and her youngest son, Master Charles Taft, occupied a box in the Coliseum, and, after the concert, at the lecture of Fred Niblo, on Russia. They were accompanied by a party of boy friends of Charles, whom he has known and played with in Washington for several years. Mr. Robert Taft, President's elder son, arrived yesterday from Yale, and Miss Helen will come next week from Bryn Mawr.

The Japanese Ambassador and Baroness Takahira were the guests of honor at dinner last evening of former Senator and Mrs. Dryden. The other guests included the Postmaster General, Mr. Hitchcock; Senator and Mrs. Flint, the Hitchcock Minister and Mme. Lagercrantz; Representative and Mrs. Richard Wayne Parker; Representative and Mrs. Lowden; and Mrs. Robert La Follette, and Mrs. Thomas Hunt, Mrs. J. B. Henderson, Rear Admiral Tenney, and Mrs. W. E. Curtis, Miss Boardman, and Col. and Mrs. Kuser.

The Russian Ambassador, Baron Rosen, was the guest of honor at dinner last evening at Raucher's of the military attaché of the Embassy, Col. Baron de Bode, and his sister, Baroness Elizabeth de Bode. The other guests were Gen. J. Franklin Bell, Gen. and Mrs. Garlington, and Miss Garlington, Gen. and Mrs. W. H. Spooner, Col. and Mrs. R. K. Evans, Maj. and Mrs. Sturgis, Miss Treat, Miss McClelland, Miss Hagner, Prince Kondachoff, of the embassy staff, and Commander Nebolsine, naval attaché of the Embassy.

Senator and Mrs. Lodge entertained a large company of official and diplomatic society at dinner last evening in honor of Vice President and Mrs. Sherman.

The Secretary of War, Hon. Jacob M. Dickinson, was the guest for whom the Assistant Secretary of War and Mrs. Robert Shaw Oliver entertained at dinner last night. Those asked to meet him were the German Ambassador and Countess von Bernstorff, Mr. Justice and Mrs. O. W. Holmes, Senator and Mrs. Depew, Senator Du Pont, Representative and Mrs. James Breck Perkins, the Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Huntington Wilson, Mrs. Burton Harrison, Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. Robert Bacon, and Rear Admiral Brownson.

Mr. Jacob M. Dickinson, Jr., son of the Secretary of War, arrived here from Yale Thursday, and joined his father at the Grafon for the Easter holidays.

Miss Mary Emmals Brawner, daughter of Mrs. Henry Alexander Brawner, was married last evening to Mr. James Munro Bell. The ceremony was performed in the home of the bride's mother, in N street, Georgetown, by Rev. Charles Holmead, cousin of the bride. Only the relatives were present, and a reception followed from 8 to 9:30 o'clock. The bride's only attendant was her young niece, Miss Martha Keating, and the bridegroom was unattended.

The bridegroom was of heavy white silk, made in empire style, handsomely trimmed with lace and pearls. Her veil of tulle was held with orange blossoms, and her only ornament was a brooch of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried lilies of the valley and white roses. The little flower girl, Miss Keating, wore white French organdy and pink ribbons. The house decorations were of pink and green and white, carnations, azaleas, and palms being used, with masses of maidenhair ferns.

Mrs. Brawner, mother of the bride, wore a gown of rich black silk, heavily embroidered, and carried orchids. Mrs. R. W. K. Pollock, sister of the bride, wore black chiffon over-green silk. Miss Mattie Brawner wore green silk, made empire and trimmed with handsome passementerie, and Miss Julia Brawner, another sister, wore a pink messaline empire gown.

After the reception and supper the bride and bridegroom left for California, where they will remain until the early

HOLY WEEK SERVICES

Subjects for Noon Hour at Epiphany Announced.

NEW DISPENSARY FOR SICK

Confirmation Ceremonies of St. Thomas' Will Differ from Those Usually Held in Other Churches. Church of the Ascension Shows Growth—Canon Walpole to Preach.

The subjects of the noon Holy Week services at Epiphany Church will be: Monday, "Golgotha, the place of a skull;" Tuesday, "The mystery of the cross;" Wednesday, "The interpretation of the cross;" Thursday, "The three crosses on Calvary."

The subjects of addresses at 5 p. m. will be as follows: Monday, "Jesus on Mount of Olives;" Tuesday, "Jesus at Bethany;" Wednesday, "Jesus or Barabbas;" Thursday, "The Last Supper."

On April 3 Rev. G. Froeland Peter will give an illustrated lecture on "The life of Christ."

The missionary offerings will be divided between Mr. Lobdell's School, in North Carolina, and the Eye, Ear, and Throat Hospital.

A dispensary for the treatment of sick children has been established in connection with Epiphany Chapel, Twelfth and C streets southwest, and is now in full operation.

The confirmation service which Bishop Harding will conduct Palm Sunday afternoon at St. Thomas', will differ in some particulars from confirmation as usually held in most of our churches. It is always the custom in St. Thomas' for the candidates to have arranged their pews in front of the chancel, and for all the women and girls to wear white dresses and veils. All enter the church together. Rev. Mr. Howden's class for confirmation, of which he will be president, will be held to-morrow night, and will number about thirty-five—most of whom were from and trained outside the Episcopal Church, nearly all being adults.

Rev. Canon Walpole, rector of Lambeth Parish Church, London, England, which parish is the London home of the Archbishop of Canterbury, is to be at the Church of the Ascension as the morning preacher on May 2, he being at that time on a lengthy visit to the United States, of which he is very fond, having been for some years one of the most popular professors of the General Theological Seminary in New York.

The Bishop's confirmation appointments next week, including Easter Day, are as follows:

Palm Sunday—11 a. m., Epiphany Church; 4 p. m., St. Thomas' Church; 7:30 p. m., St. John's Church, Georgetown.
Monday—7:30 p. m., Grace Church.
Tuesday—7:30 p. m., St. Mary's Chapel.
Wednesday—7:30 p. m., St. Luke's Church.
Good Friday—7:30 p. m., Emmanuel Church, Anacostia.
Easter Day—11 a. m., St. Paul's Church; 7:30 p. m., Church of the Good Shepherd.

Wednesday last, in the American Trust and Security Building, a meeting was held of the incorporators of the Bell Home. There were present the Bishop of the diocese and nine of the incorporators, those present being Rev. W. J. Davenport, Mr. H. P. Blair, Mr. W. H. Singleton, Mr. H. P. Blair, Mr. W. C. Rives, Mrs. W. G. Davenport, Mrs. R. J. Earnshaw, and Miss Victorine Coombs. The meeting organized and adopted a constitution. The officers are as follows: The Bishop, president ex-officio; Rev. W. G. Davenport, vice president; Mr. John Weaver, secretary and treasurer. The meeting also appointed a building committee, consisting of Messrs. Blair, Singleton, and Weaver, whose duty it will be to purchase additional land and start the movement for the new building.

Under Rev. J. Henning Neils, as rector, there has been a marked improvement in the congregations at the Church of the Ascension, and of course, also in the revenues. The envelope fund, for instance, last year yielded $4,800, and this year it is $4,700.

Rev. Canon Allnutt, who will be a visitor from Canada to the rector of the Church of the Ascension during Holy Week and Easter, will preach on Easter Day at 8 p. m.

They are to have at the Church of the Ascension within the next ninety days a white stone altar, which is being designed by Mr. Henry Vaughn, architect of the Cathedral, and which is to be a memorial of Bishop Satterlee.

At Christ Church, Georgetown, Rev. J. H. W. Blake, rector, the cantata, "Penitence, Pardon, and Peace," composed by J. H. Maunders, will be sung by the parish choir at 8 p. m. on Sunday.

The Bishop Claggett Club met this past week for the election of officers. There had not been a meeting of the club for some months; not, in fact, since before the meetings of the late conventions. Rev. H. Allen Griffith is secretary. About a dozen members were present, including Rev. Dr. Pettit, Rev. W. G. Davenport, P. B. Howden, Neilson Falls, H. Allen Griffith, G. F. Dudley, C. Ernest Smith, W. R. Busby, and the Rev. Mr. Bicknell.

Bishop Harding will conduct the Three Hours' service at the Chapel of the Nativity, in Massachusetts avenue northeast, at Emanuel Church, Anacostia, Rev. W. G. Davenport, rector, there will be confirmation on Good Friday by the bishop of the diocese. On the Tuesday preceding a sacred cantata will be sung by the choir.

For Revival Services. Shiloh Baptist Church is arranging to start revival services after Easter, and has engaged Rev. Charles S. Morris, D. D., of New York City, and J. H. Colwell, the famous choir leader, of New Orleans, to assist Rev. Dr. Waldron in the meetings.

Commercial Travelers Will Meet. The United Commercial Travelers will hold their regular meeting in the room of Flag Council, No. 25, to-night at 8 o'clock, in Pythian Temple. A complimentary collation will be served. All members of U. C. T. are cordially invited.
